

Why Roxxor?

Roxxor is ideally placed to be your ecommerce and web application solution partner. Here's why...

1. Stunning, usable design

All the websites and admin interfaces we create are designed with the end user in mind which ensures a high level of site stickiness, strong conversion rates and improved efficiency for your admin team.

2. Expert advice

With over 18 years combined experience delivering and promoting best practise, top notch applications and ecommerce solutions, we can advise you on every aspect of your project from design to development, marketing and measurement.

3. Attention to detail

We love detail – the little bits you can and can't see that make the solutions we deliver that extra bit special and unique.

4. Robust, scalable architecture

We pride ourselves on technical excellence and for all development projects we set as a top priority the creation of a comprehensive, scalable and reliable architecture.

5. Outstanding return

Our solutions have been proven to deliver outstanding return on investment (ROI)

6. Best practise search engine optimisation

All Roxxor solutions are highly optimised for search and we readily embrace best practise SEO guidelines. By weaving SEO into the heart of your application we maximise the opportunity for your site to gain a strong search ranking.

7. Integrated email marketing

We have extensive experience of creating, distributing and measuring email campaigns that punch well above their weight when compared to industry averages. We highly recommend email promotion is tightly integrated into all consumer focused applications.

8. Managed hosting and support

Our managed hosting service offers online access to our system monitoring tools and direct access to our engineers should you need technical support at any time.

9. Long Term Relationship

We strive to establish long term relationships with our clients and provide an agency service that can really help drive your business forwards. We have successfully done this with all of our clients to date.

10. Peace of mind

Our solutions are built to last, but we'll be there to advise you if you wish to modify or update your solution in the future.

Our clients include

We think our approach, combined experience and technical ability are top notch, but don't take our word for it, find out what some of our others clients have to say at www.roxxor.co.uk

Alternatively, call us on 020 7993 5152 to discuss your requirements.

Roxxor Limited

Rosebery House, 70 Rosebery Avenue, London, EC1R 4RR
www.roxxor.co.uk 020 7993 5152